The Bottom Line . . .

1 in 5 Canadian mums has experienced diaper need.

Families experiencing diaper need have to cut back on essentials like food, clothing and basic utilities in order to afford diapers.

In households experiencing diaper need, babies may be kept in wet, dirty diapers for extended periods of time.

Babies kept in wet or dirty diapers cry more often, suffer from more severe diaper rash, and are at greater risk of developing infections.

A lack of clean diapers contributes to higher stress and anxiety levels and can strain the bond between caregiver and child.

A monthly supply of diapers can cost between $75 and $100 per child. A child wears 7,500 diapers on average by the age of 2.

1 in 4 children live in low-income households in Toronto, and 32% of children aged 0 to 5 years live in poverty.

Clean diapers are a basic need for mums and babies.
